Spring Cleaning!!!!

While there are several suggested origins of Spring Cleaning, one of them is based on the Passover. During Passover it is forbidden to have leavened bread in the household (even crumbs and dusts are from forbidden flours.) Therefore, just before Passover the family took to cleaning the entire house to remove all forbidden particles in preparation of Passover.

The Property Ministry invites the Faith family to join in preparations for the Holy Week with a Spring Clean-up on March 27th (the Saturday before Palm Sunday.) Please come and join us to help make the Church sparkle for Holy Week. We will start at 8:30AM and hope to conclude by noon.

We will be cleaning the Sanctuary, windows, and furnishings; the Narthex; and the Fellowship Hall. This includes washing windows, vacuuming, dusting, and polishing.

Please contact Curt Schroeder at 303-638-9738 (cell) to sign up to help!

Easter lily sales continue through Thursday, March 25th. Please find order forms in the bulletin and in the narthex.

NEW WORSHIP TIMES

Beginning Sunday, April 4th (Easter Sunday) we will be moving to a new worship schedule:

8:00 AM, 9:30 AM, and 11:00 AM

Moving forward, we will keep these worship times as our regular schedule. Our Christian Education Hour will be at 9:30 AM.

As we grow, the needs of worship grows as well. God has richly blessed FCLC and we welcome the changes it brings! Remember to bring a friend to church at one of our new worship times!

Seder Dinner

Thursday, April 1st
6:00 PM
Fellowship Hall

Come and Get 'em!!!! Seder Dinner tickets are now available. Get your tickets early as seating is limited and this is always a sold out meal! There will be a free will offering for the tickets. Seder is the traditional Passover Week Dinner celebrated by the Hebrews since the Exodus. It is the Hebrew thanksgiving to God for deliverance and redemption. Seder is also called the Passover Dinner commemorating the protection of God as the Angel of Death passed over every family protected by the Blood of the Paschal Lamb.

It was also Seder that was the setting for the "Last Supper." where Jesus chose to announce the New Covenant. It was at this Seder that Jesus commanded "do this in remembrance of me."

Please note that Confirmation students should attend at least one Seder meal during one of their three years of confirmation.

If you have any questions or if you can help with the food preparation, room set up, serving, or clean up, please contact Sally at sallyjmeier@yahoo.com.

Kids Hope USA

The following is a brief story about a Kids Hope mentor and the student he is mentoring at Sanborn Elementary:

Last week one of the mentors asked his student how his basketball team was doing. The student told him that they would be playing their last game on Saturday. The mentor asked where the game was going to be played and said that he would try to be there. On Saturday Mr. Mentor walked into the gym and found a seat in the bleachers on the opposite side of where the players were sitting. The student was sitting on the bench and spied Mr. Mentor up in the bleachers. The student got up in the middle of the game and walked around the basketball court to find Mr. Mentor and greet him with a handshake. Later, he introduced him to his mother.

When I told Mr. Wahler, the principal at Sanborn, about this, he was amazed. He told me that this is a "complete turnaround" for this child. He has become focused and compliant this year which is quite different from how he had been in the past, and he believes it is primarily because of his involvement in the Kids Hope program.

It is because of events like this that I love Kids Hope USA! Would you like more information about how you could change the life of a child? Call or email LaRae Schaff at 303-772-8385 or larae@fcl.org.

Health and Well Being

In the past few weeks, a group from the Pastoral Care Committee has gathered to address the needs of members of our congregation who may temporarily need assistance due to an illness or family crisis. The program would also address the needs of the seriously ill as well as the challenges of aging. These needs, including rides to and from church or appointments, meals, hospital visitations and small home repairs are ministry opportunities that require action and commitment from those of us who have been given the gift of compassion and caretaking.

The group has found, and is very excited about, the program Share the Care. Share the Care is an organization that trains and educates volunteers to work with those who fit the above description. Does this sound like a ministry that God is calling you to explore? You can learn more at the following website: <http://www.sharethecare.org>.

If you find that He is pointing you in this direction, please contact Gloria Borchert at gloriaborchert@yahoo.com, Cookie Olsen at CookieOlsen@comcast.net, or Tanja Nelson at Tanja@fcl.org. A more formal informational meeting is forthcoming, so stay tuned!!

Earthquake in Chile

"So we will not be afraid, even if the earth is shaken". Psalm 46:2

On the 27th of February one of the most powerful earthquakes in history struck Chile.

Neal Stolpe (son of Ray and Marilyn Stolpe and brother of Cindy Hansen) and his wife, Mary, are professors in Chile. They are safe and they wish to thank our church for the many faithful prayers.

Neal writes that they have experienced the protection and presence of the Lord as mentioned in Psalm 46. Neal also said continued support for this country would be wisely funneled through Lutheran World Relief.

If you desire to help the people of Chile, Outreach will facilitate your donation. Simply note "LWR Chile Earthquake" on the memo line of your check.

Your Outreach Dollars at Work

A gift of $10,994 has been sent to Haitian Timoun (Creole for "little child") Foundation. This ministry (which had its roots right here in Colorado at Abiding Hope Lutheran in Littleton) is little known to us other than what Ben Mason shared with us following his experience in Haiti during a devastating earthquake. Founded in 2001, HTF is a non-profit organization and dynamic grassroots movement whose mission is to create a future of hope, sustainability, and dignity for the children of Haiti. In the past seven years HTF and its partners have:

- † Helped to sustain the finest center for severely disabled children in Haiti.
- † Given the brightest and best among the poorest of the poor the opportunity of a college education.
- † Provided a school for ultra-poor children through Trinity House in Jacmel.
- † Helped put families living in extreme poverty on a path to a better life.

A Message From Our “Youth Guy”

Hey Faith Family,

I have been spending some time lately researching some trouble areas that it seems parents are having with their children/teenagers across the country. This past week I was able to work with a man named Walt Mueller who started Center for Parent & Youth Understanding (<http://www.cpyu.org>.) We talked a lot about the way culture is changing, along with technology, and how it seems that a lot of parents, churches, and schools have not kept up with the times in creating boundaries to keep youth educated on how to use technology safely. I know even for myself I have become consumed with the all the latest fads and gadgets and had to take a jump back and really question the “why’s” behind using some of this technology. The link above has some great resources and articles to help parents.

Nanette and I have been talking a lot lately about how we can better serve our family units in the church by coming along and helping to equip, retool, ENCOURAGE, and support families no matter what youth stage they may be in (infant through college-age.) As we are looking forward to the Summer of Gifts Program that Education provides, we would love to offer some specialized talks for parents on certain topics. I also want to work towards a quarterly piece to send out to parents to help answer some of the questions you may have about cultural issues going on with youth (technology, school, TV programming, etc.)

Below is a blog I read which I thought was good. The gentleman who wrote it is straight forward in creating boundaries for his family. I hope this is useful. Any feedback as parents you have would be great. If you have some ideas of things you would like to discuss for parent topics let Nanette at Nanette@fcl.org or Brit at Brit@fcl.org know what those may be.

Blessings,

Tim Steven's posted this post the other day and I thought it was way worthy of RE Blogging.

“Parents find what fits your family and do it. My encouragement is just don't sit there and do nothing and wonder what is wrong with your teen...do something!!!

Our kids are growing up in a different world. Here are a few things we do (or have done) to keep our kids safe...

Internet Filtering

Curiosity killed the cat and can do great harm to kids as well. We have used different products to filter and monitor our kids internet activities. Monitoring tells us where they are going. Filtering keeps bad stuff away that could hurt them. Currently we are using Family Safety which is a free add-on product that we have loaded on every computer they access. Not only can we restrict sites based on our values-we can also monitor what sites are capturing their attention. And we can change (ease) these restrictions as they get older.

Computer Game Time

On a school day, they get 30 minutes of electronic game time (whether computer, Wii, Xbox, iPod, whatever). On non-school days, they get an hour. This limit forces them (mostly the boys) to find other things to do. They all love reading, and I think that is partially because we haven't allowed their time to be monopolized by staring at a screen.

Cell Phone privileges

We didn't get cell phones for our teens until they were in 9th grade. Why then? Because that is when it became inconvenient to us that they didn't have one. It was never really a safety issue in middle school. There was always a friend nearby who had a phone they could borrow.

Cell Phone Limits

This is about helping them stay in the present and not always being pulled away into other conversations. Our cell phones have unlimited text messaging, but we actually pay an additional fee (called “Smart Limits” by AT&T) to limit the number of text messages and the time of day it works for phone calls (other than to us, of course).

iPod Touch Restrictions

Our 7th grade son saved his money for a long time until he was able to buy an iPod Touch. The first thing I did was took it, enabled the “restrictions” feature, locked it out from Safari (internet surfing) and YouTube, set a password, and gave it back to him. I don't need my adolescent son walking around with a pocket full of temptation.

Email Monitoring

When they first got email privileges, I restricted their incoming messages to an approved list to protect them from child predators. After a while, I lifted that restriction but continued to monitor all their incoming and outgoing email. As the teens are getting older and more responsible, I've gone from:

- 1) Monitor everything to
- 2) Monitor occasionally to
- 3) “You know I can monitor it if I want” to
- 4) I trust you

A Message From Our "Youth Guy" - continued...

Facebook Monitoring

Similar to email, we monitored all of their Facebook activity when they first began using it (around 8th grade). Then it was "as needed."

TV Time

The biggest blessing to parents has been the invention of the DVR (or TIVO). Our kids don't channel surf. There is no reason. We just keep the DVR stacked with shows that won't hurt their hearts (which, of course, changes as they age). They get a limited time to watch and when they do, they can skip commercials (which saves time AND limits the consumer mentality from taking over.) Parents: Think of a DVR as a parenting tool, not a tech gadget.

~ ~ ~ ~ ~

I haven't even talked about the content of movies or shows, but the bottom line: You are the parent. If you don't protect them from the digital world, who will? At the same time, if you don't prepare them to live in a digital world without your oversight, who will? I am constantly doing the countdown: I know I have 17 months left to prepare Heather to totally stand on her own in the world. So we are constantly re-evaluating our limits and lifting them as she is ready. It's fun to go to the kids and say, "you've been doing great, making good choices. I'm going to ease the restriction in this area because I think you can handle it now."

Welcome Center

Construction is zooming right along and before we know it, the old "coat room" will be renovated completely into our new Welcome Center.

The new granite countertop, stone finishes, wordwork, and workstations are already well under way. Painting, lighting, and "moving in" are just around the corner!

We want to thank you for your patience during the construction and this transition time here at Faith. As we grow in membership, we need to "keep up with the times". Most churches our size have Welcome Centers to greet their visitors, provide services for their members, and to welcome everyone into the Lord's house. Staff is extremely excited about this new opportunity and are pleased with all the great feedback we have received during this time.

Please note that the mailboxes and the coat racks have now been relocated to the Fellowship Hall. Please also note that the mailboxes have been renumbered. With the addition of our new members March 7th, we simply did not have enough boxes to accommodate everyone. In order to accommodate the coat racks, we did not have the room to build more mailboxes. To resolve this conflict, we simply decided to alphabetize our families and place two families in each box. We hope that this will be a great way for each family to get to know another family just a little better! So, if you don't know your "mailbox buddies", look them up and introduce yourself! Invite them for coffee and goodies in the Fellowship Hall!

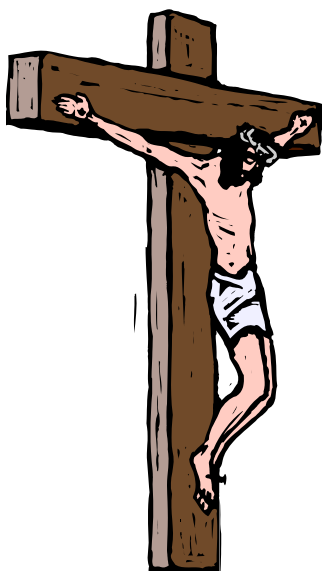

So, come, hang up your coat, check your mailbox, and join us for coffee and refreshments in the Fellowship Hall between services!

Grocery Certificates

Did you know that you have the opportunity to purchase $25 grocery cards for Safeway and King Soopers each Sunday morning at Faith Community Lutheran? There are no hidden costs! You pay $25 per card. Both King Soopers and Safeway return five percent from sales using these specific cards directly back to FCLC. The Christian Education ministry uses this money to purchase library books for the FCLC library and to support service projects the children participate in. Look for a Christian Education committee member staffing the little red cart in the Fellowship Hall before and after the Sunday School hour each Sunday morning. Thanks for your support!

Why Do We Crucify Him Again?

I say something rude
to someone who's lost,
And I've ruined my witness,
But they will pay the cost.
--So I nail in the nails.

Can anyone see the Lord through me,
Or do they simply see my sins?
Am I living the life Christ wants me to,
Am I living the life of man?
--So I plunge in the spear.

And when I fail to pray,
and my conversations with Him fade,
Does He patiently wait for my call,
Though it causes Him pain?
--And I place the thorns upon His brow.

I lead a life of double standards,
One day good, the next one bad.
Can He quietly stand by
When He sees all I could have had?
--And I ridicule my Lord once again.

For you see,
Each time we turn our backs,
and return to the world of sin,
It is then that you and I,
We crucify Him again.

-- Brandy Cambell (12th grade)
